One hundred dollars for a book I can't sell?

By Michael S. Welch

This book is one hundred dollars and you can't sell it once your class is over. I already have a huge problem with the price of textbooks, but to now make it so I can't sell it once I'm done with it? Ridiculous.

$100 e-book!! totally ridiculous

By A. Olajire

Simple and short: one hundred bucks for a book you cant sell is insane, then you add the price of the electronic device used to read it and you spending way more than you would when you buy the hard copy. If I could rate this less than a star i would rate it 1/4 of one star.
